

Mukti Botanicals Organically Proven

Necessity is the mother of invention, so they say, and you can add desperation as the father too. Because it was desperation and the need to find a socially conscious, environmentally friendly, all natural skincare range which forced Mukti to come up with her eponymous brand in 2000. The products by Mukti Botanicals reflect the philosophy of Mukti, who firmly believes that cosmetics should help one release rather than absorb toxins, and that you should never put on your skin what you will not put in your mouth.

Wise words indeed, which is why everything from Mukti Botanicals is 100% plant-based, 100% organically grown, and have been certified clean, green, organic and GMO free by Organic Food Chain – Australia's largest organic certification body. Amongst its most-popular products are the Mukti Antioxidant Facial Oil, Mukti Vitamin Earth Mineral Masque, and the Mukti Rosehip Eye Gel, all of which have captured the spirit of freedom and freshness that is Australia.

Mukti is available in Malaysia at Bodybar in Tropicana City Mall, Damansara. Also available at Phyto-Organics, Raffles City and DNA Beaute Capitol Building in Singapore.

Roll back the years with Lydia Jordane

Since 1947, Vita Life Sciences has been one of the Australia's leading names in complementary and supplementary medicine and care products, with over 1,000 different types for different age groups. One of its most exciting offerings is its Lydia Jordane skincare range, which was the first to use Beta Glucan – a powerful anti-oxidant that fights free radicals to leave the skin feeling and looking younger, firmer, smoother, softer, and more elastic.

Perfect for those whose skins have been traumatised by burns, the sun, and acne, as well as for smokers, and people with the propensity towards eczema, dermatitis, psoriasis, and roseacea; Lydia Jordane is a godsend for them. Approved by the Ministry of Health in Malaysia and certified Halal, Lydia Jordane is already making a mark in Malaysia – and with good reason too!

Lydia Jordane is available in Malaysia at the VitaLife Head Office in Damansara Utama
